[Hebron August 2022] The National Public Safety Drone Donation Program is signed up with the Walmart community grant program to help support under funded public safety agencies across the country. A local Walmart and Sam's Club have donated a total of $3000 to help support a local fire department in Tuskegee Alabama.

Other partners of the National Public Safety Drone Donation Program will also donate to this department.

 pilotinstitute Will be donating a FAA 107 pilot study program to the department as well.

Representatives from the National Public Safety Drone Donation Program plan to do an in person donation and we are hoping to receive media coverage on the generosity of not only Walmart and Sam's Club corporations but also from the Pilot Institute for helping to support underfunded public safety agencies.

“I'm requesting a drone for my department so we can use it for search/rescue, firefighters being on the roof of burning houses, fire marshal can use it for investigation, airport and parachuting rescues, car accidents and training”
Said Lieutenant K.Woods

“Assisting our first responders and other members of our community has always been a focus of Sam's Club and the Wal-Mart Foundation. We are always happy to help everyone that we can.” Said Management

“Pilot Institute is proud to support NPS-DDP in their efforts to bring additional resources to Public Safety agencies and help them do their job more efficiently and safely. We currently support hundreds of public safety agencies across the country and look forward to continuing to do so with NPS-DDP's help.” Said Greg Reverdiau Co-founder of pilot Institute

“The mission of our foundation is to help support underfunded public safety agencies receive life-saving drone technology. When put into the hands of properly trained Public Safety officials these tools can help save lives, property and time. Our goal is to help put “Eyes In The Sky For Every Department In Need”™ We can't thank Walmart and pilot Institute for the generous donations to help make this possible for the Tuskegee 100% volunteer fire department.” Said Mark Langley CEO of National Public Safety Drone Donation Program
